UNVEILING OUR LEGACY

Our Utmost for the Highest

Sawai Ram Singh Road, Near Ajmeri Gate
Jaipur, 302001, Rajasthan

Our Founder

In the summer of 1940, the Maharaja of Jaipur, His Highness Sir Sawai Man Singh Ji Bahadur, brought home the legendary and beautiful Princess Ayesha/Gayatri Devi, of Cooch Behar, as his bride. His Highness, the Maharaja Sahib, being a modern thinking ruler, was very concerned that girls' education was one field in which Jaipur was far behind other states and provinces in India. So, one morning, he asked Her Highness what could be done to free the women from the shackles of the 'purdah.' 'Give me a school and I will try,' she said. 'Once the girls go to a school, there will be no 'purdah' in a few years.' His Highness immediately summoned his Prime Minister, Sir Mirza Ismail and the Education & Finance Minister, Rao Bahadur Amarnath Atal. The order to allot land and prepare plans for the school building was given. Her Highness discussed her ideas with the two ministers—the foundation of Maharani Gayatri Devi School was laid.

Thus, Maharani Gayatri Devi Girls' School was founded on 4th July 1943 by Her Highness Maharani Gayatri Devi, with His Highness Sir Sawai Man Singh Ji of Jaipur as its Patron. The distinguished Patron, the Founder, the eminent Members of the Board of Governors, along with the dedication and experience of the founding Principal, Miss Lillian G. Lutter, combined to establish this school. From a small beginning in 1943 with 24 students, the school began on the lines of the British Public School pattern, keeping Indian cultural and traditional values intact in order to shape and equip the students.

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

A little girl enters the portals of MGD, hesitant, unsure, a bit awed by the large spaces, shy and awkward yet sweet and innocent and full of wonder... she hops, skips and jumps her way to find her class and among a sea of faces expectantly looks for her class teacher who alone appears as her redeemer. Little does she realize that this is a new beginning, oblivious of the beautiful journey ahead.

Many years later, a smart young lady glides out of MGD gates, with an air of confidence, grace and self-assurance, well-groomed and well-appointed, all set to take her place in the world and make a mark for herself.

This beautiful sojourn will be narrated by each one of the parents, when their daughter grows up to be the ideal MGDian after spending precious years in MGD.

And you dear girls are going to be the protagonist of this story and your own script writer.

We, at MGD, endeavor to create that environment where all our girls blossom, where learning is fun, acquiring of skill sets and knowledge is spontaneous and where personality develops through both emotional and social bonding. Education, imparted is lifelong and not just confined to books. Maharani Gayatri Devi, through her astute futurist vision envisaged to bring the women of erstwhile Rajputana out of the purdah.

This was achieved not through diktat but through dedication. The opening of MGD in 1943, an all-girls' English medium school, a huge step towards empowerment and education of girls, was successfully achieved by the highest standard.

Life in MGD is a journey of self-discovery.
